PRESS RELEASE

ADAMI Studio Tbilisi – Film Editing Counseling has started

ADAMI Studio, a three-day film editing counseling in Tbilisi has started on December 5th. The counseling is organized in partnership with the Tbilisi International Film Festival and Georgian Public Broadcaster, for fiction and documentary projects dealing with topics of cultural diversity, minorities, migration and peaceful coexistence. There are Armenian, Azerbaijani and Georgian film projects participating.

The internationally renowned Berlin-based film editor Patricia Rommel, the director, producer and professor Vladimir Oseledchyk from Kiev and the well-known Georgian director Otar Shamatava are working with the participants in several editing rooms.. ADAMI Studio participants are also given the chance to attend screenings and networking events that the festival offers to its international guests. An open one-hour Masterclass by Patricia Rommel at Amirani Cinema is also included in the program.

At the opening of the masterclass, taking place in the premises of Georgian Public Broadcaster, guests and journalists were welcomed by Michael Fabri, Deputy of the German Ambassador in Georgia, Kote Jandieri, Head of the Film Department of GPB and Stefan Tolz, Program Director of the ADAMI Media Prize.

About the ADAMI Media Prize for Cultural Diversity in Eastern Europe: The ADAMI Media Prize was created to encourage filmmakers, journalists and audio-visual media professionals in the EU Eastern Partnership countries to promote topics of cultural diversity, minorities, migration and peaceful coexistence. The prize rewards outstanding TV, film and online projects that deal with diversity-related issues. Besides prize-giving, ADAMI organizes various events for networking and fosters exchange among media professionals in Eastern Europe and the EU. For more information, please visit our website: www.adamimediapriz.eu
