ADAMI FOCUS

With Andrian Candu, Patron of the ADAMI Gala Award Ceremony 2018 and Former Speaker of the Moldovan Parliament

Tuesday, 23 June 14.00 CEST

Cultural Diversity - A Forgotten Task?

With governments, political parties and investors influencing media, minority issues often are not prioritized. What can be done?

Moderated by Carolin Ollivier, Editor in Chief of *ARTE Journal

Media outlets in the EU Eastern Partnership countries are directly influenced by social and economic groups, political parties or powerful individuals with their own agendas. Journalism is too often reduced to a political tool. The plights of minority groups are forgotten, used to garner votes or even to stoke conflict between groups and destabilize society. How can political groups and journalists work to find solutions to this problem?

The second in our series of ADAMI FOCUS Online Talks will feature the patron of the ADAMI Gala 2018, former Speaker of the Parliament of Moldova, Andrian Candu.

Andrian Candu has many years of experience as member of the Moldovan parliament. He has served as Deputy Prime Minister, Minister of Economy, and was Speaker of the Moldovan Parliament from 2015 - 2019.

Carolyn Ollivier is Editor in Chief of the daily news programme ARTE Journal, where she has worked since 2006. Carolyn has extensive experience as a journalist, presenter for the programme ARTE Reportage and as a correspondent in Brussels.

The ADAMI Media Prize for Cultural Diversity in Eastern Europe is the largest platform of its kind for media networking on integration and ethnic or religious minority issues in the six Eastern Partnership countries of the EU. Broadcasters, filmmakers and journalists each year are invited to submit their best works to the prestigious ADAMI Media Prize competition. Prizes are awarded in six categories: fiction, documentary, news, student works, websites and online videos. The submission deadline for this year's ADAMI Media Prize competition is 15 July 2020.
